

DANCING THE THING AGAIN AT NEWPORT

May Even Outdo Its Immense
Popularity of Last Season.

THE TANGO TAKEN UP

But Turkey Trotting Is Over
With Social Events of the Week.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 13.—Dancing this year is again one of the chief diversions of the members of the summer colony. It is as much a fact this summer as ever it was and a little more so, though it would be hard to credit last season in this respect. Then it was almost the universal fact of having informal dancing follow every large dinner party and everything regularly instructed in the dancing art. Miss Helen Weaver has this past week begun her school of instruction, and she includes among her patronesses Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Henry H. Ward, Mrs. French Vanderbilt, Mrs. Cameron McK. Winslow, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman and Mrs. T. Shaw

The influx of summer residents has not by any means stopped as yet. Since last Sunday there have been a number of cottages and villas opened and still more expected. The week's arrivals have included Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and her children, who are occupying Villa Rosa, the E. Hollins Morse estate; Mrs. William B. Leeds and her father, William C. Stewart, who are at the E. Townsend Burden estate; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rives and family, who have opened Seashurst; Mrs. James M. Clarke and family, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Willoughby; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal, who have taken the Thorne cottage; Mr. and Mrs. Creston Gibson, who have the Bright cottage; Mrs. Van der Bilt, who is the guest of Mrs. Van der Bilt; Mrs. Frederick P. Sands, Ige-ton L. Winthrop, Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Sturges, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Herick and Mrs. Ogden Goebel, just back from abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lothrop Ames of Boston are expected in a short time, as are Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Delrichs, who are at

Those Who Are Stopping There and What They Are Doing.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 13.—The middle of July finds an informal activity at Edgewood Inn, the summer colony fills the days with golf, tennis, swimming and motor trips, dinners and cards being the evening diversions.

The usual Saturday night dance in the ball room was enjoyed by the house

Doussbury, entertained Monday with a delightful luncheon, followed by bridge. Among the guests from the Inn were Mrs. St. John Hays, Mrs. Byrd and Mrs. James Wilson Wenman, who took one of the several handsome prizes.

Recent arrivals at the Inn include Mrs. Henry W. Smith and Miss A. B. Dexton, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Emanuel, Mr. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fanning, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hencken and Mrs. Frank Shoemaker.

Mrs. Charles P. Armstrong gave a large children's party at her beautiful Belle Haven home for her two little grand-children, who have just left with her for an indefinite stay abroad.

Miss Helen Moffett of New York has returned to the Inn after a motor trip with a party of friends to Lenox, where the Fourth was enjoyed.

An interesting gathering of women from the Inn and Greenwich met at the home of Mrs. E. P. Ray, Field Point road, Monday afternoon to hear the talk given by Mrs. Julian P. Heath, president of the Housewives League of New York city.

Tuesday afternoon in a picturesque grove on the Edgewood Inn estate Dr. Edgar C. Abbott gave the first of a series of Shakespearean recitals, "King Lear" being the chosen play. The interested audience was composed of Inn guests and many from Greenwich and nearby resorts.

Among the week end guests registered at the Inn were

Lewis Earle of New York, who spent a

Mrs. J.H. Harriman and Pembroke Jones Family
Photographed at Newport.

now points to the introduction of the same

This present season, as far as can be learned, there is no inclination to resort to the dances of the extreme, the turkey trot and the grizzly bear, which had their innings during the summer of 1911. This year if anything the villa colony dancers are going back to the old fashioned dances. Two steps and waltzes are always in vogue, but the polka is finding its place on the dance programme in some quarters this year. The tango is being revived and promises to become one of the season's popular dances.

Though the Newport season has just started, there has been quite a few informal dances given and the schedule of dances for the remainder of the season is fast filling up. During the past week Mrs. French Vanderbilt had dancing follow a large dinner party which she gave, and she has another dinner dance announced for next Saturday evening.

Mrs. John J. Mason has already given two of a series of dances, which she has arranged to take place at her summer home, Watkin, and Mr. and Mrs. Marsden J. Perry took over the Clamlake Club a few nights ago for a dinner and dance for the members of their house party and a few other friends.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish began her dinner entertainments last evening, and informal dancing followed in the ballroom at Crossways. The ball that she is arranging for the night of August 10 in honor of her daughter, Miss Helena Fish, daughter of Hamilton Fish, promises to be one of the most elaborate parties of the summer. Mrs. Fish is going to great expense for this dance. An addition to be put upon the ballroom nearly 100 feet long and one of the Newport florists has been given an order to do his best in the way of floral decorations. There will be a cotillion, and this, though he is out of the game for some time, is to be led by Elisha Lee.

present at Lenox. Miss M. de Bamil has set her arrival date for July 20 and Miss Annie Leary of New York is having her Bellevue home temporarily opened after being closed for several years.

Mrs. George C. Haven is also to return to Newport this summer. She has taken one of the Diamond cottages on Narragansett avenue and will therefore be close to her daughter, Mrs. Forester Wickes, whose summer home is but a short distance away.

It was announced within the last few days that Rear Admiral Cameron McK. Winslow and Mrs. Winslow have taken another lease of the Cleveland cottage on Catherine street, an estate which they have occupied for the greater part of the year for several years.

Mrs. John Russell Seely of New York, who has been the guest of Mrs. Van der Bilt at the Breakers, may, it is reported, take a cottage for the late season, and Mrs. William A. M. Burden is to spend a portion of the season with her mother, Mrs. Twombly, at Vinland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, who are abroad, will not reach Newport this year, according to the present plans, but the news that Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman intended to spend the entire month of August here was received with a great deal of pleasure.

AVON, N. J.
Summer Residents Concerned In Erection of New Schoolhouse.
AVON-BY-THE-SEA, N. J., July 13.—Taxpayers here have had quite a little excitement this week over the purchase of a block for the erection of a new schoolhouse. The prominent summer residents took a great interest in the last election and elected John Bingham, a retired banker of New York, Mayor, and since that time the borough has been ruled along lines of strict business. The local members of council seemed to want to spend about $20,000 on the school house and voted an appropriation of $30,000 some time ago for the purchase of a block and new school. A special meeting is called for the near future, when the matter will be decided. Such men as William H. B. Totten of New York, former president of the Irving Savings Institution; Thomas O. Reilly, Charles A. Maurice, T. S. Miller and Edwin H. Swift are taking an active interest in the affair, as well as James A. Bradley, "father of the Jersey coast."

guests and members of the "younger set" from Greenwich.

The Greenwich Country Club is an unusually lively place just now, as the State championship tournament is the event of interest. There are over a hundred entries and a handsome display of cups are on exhibition as incentives for expert playing, though there will also be trophies for the beaten players.

Plans are being negotiated for a women's tournament next week. Among the golf enthusiasts at the Inn are: Ernest Fink, N. S. Meldrum, Howard Barker, William S. Gray, Spencer Waters.

Tennis has a decided following at the Inn; among those who play daily are: Miss Frances Ward, Miss Marjorie Shannon, Miss Helen Moffett, Miss Julie Smith, Mrs. De Forest Simmons, C. Montague Ford, De Forest Simmons, Harold Barker, Norman Burrell, John Boyd, William Gray.

Mrs. Graham K. Mollen of Brooklyn is among those particularly expert at clock golf.

Miss Julie M. Smith of New York, who with her father, Isaac P. Smith, is at the Inn for the season, derives pleasure from driving her own car over the fine Connecticut roads.

Among the social affairs of recent date was a gathering of the Morning Bridge Club, which alternates its meetings between private homes and at the Inn. In the hotel card parlors four tables were surrounded on Friday. Among those who took prizes were Mrs. Frank Nichols, Mrs. Henry Adams, Mrs. Ernest Fink, Mrs. Alfonso Green.

Mrs. St. John Hays of New York entertained at luncheon Friday, her guests lingering for a game of bridge in the attractive court.

Mrs. Edward Lauterbach of New York, who is a frequent entertainer during her stay at the Inn, had as her guests at a charming dinner given in the Dutch room Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Porter Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. Ackerson and Mr. Cavendish.

Complimentary to Miss Anita de Witt of New York, Mrs. Lauterbach's guest, who had dining with her Saturday night, Miss Frances Ward, John Boyd, Harry Anderson and C. F. Satterlee.

few days with Mr. and Mrs. De Forest Simmons.

E. F. Satterlee of New York spent Sunday with John Boyd, who is here for the season with his mother, Mrs. John Boyd.

and sister, Miss Annie Lloyd Walter Eaton of New York came up for the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Eaton of New York.

James Blair of Oyster Bay was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Meldrum. Harold Gray came for a week end stay with Mr. and Mrs. William Steele Gray. The recent motor parties at the Inn include Mrs. H. W. Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gould of Germantown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of New York, Dr. and Mrs. H. Bradley, Dr. and Mrs. Downs of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Cheever and Mrs. W. H. Chandler of Bethlehem, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jones of Providence, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davron of New York, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Woodbury, Lawrence Woodbury of Hornell, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson Duff of New York, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. McVowry, Mrs. M. Ebling, Charles Potts, Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wiese, Sagamore, N. Y.

HUNTINGTON.

International Motor Boat Races
Aronson Interest.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., July 13.—Race week the blue ribbon event of the season at Huntington, is the talk of the resorters. The international motor boat races to be held here the last week in August are attracting as much attention in this vicinity as such classical events as the Poughkeepsie and Henley regattas. Everybody is preparing to make a gala occasion of the contest, in which America is to defend the Harmsworth trophy against challengers from England and France.

All the hotel proprietors report an unprecedented demand for accommodations. Huntington gives promise of being as crowded as Chicago or Baltimore during the recent conventions. E. M. Browner, manager of the Chateau Beau Rivage, formerly the Chateau des Beaux-Arts, declared to-day that options have been secured on practically all of the forty rooms in the hotel and that he was making arrangements to take care of the overflow in cottages connected with the hotel.

Motor boating is naturally the fad at this resort. Daily all kinds of speedy craft fairly fly over the bay. Yachts steam into the harbor, motor boats swing from their docks and race with Father Time. Twenty-five, thirty, thirty-five miles an hour, there seems to be no limit to the speed they can attain.

These exhibitions are watched daily from the shore by large galleries of interested spectators who come here from the city and nearby resorts in their automobiles. Every clear day, especially over week ends, brings many enthusiasts, who become interested in the hydroplanes.

Recent arrivals at the Chateau Beau Rivage are Hugh F. Crowder, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Renner, Harry W. Renner, Robert S. Renner, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bertrand, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ehrlich, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Berry, William Kasaki, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Berry, Mr. A. H. Seon, R. B. Korn, Mr. and Mrs. William Sheppard, James C. Sullivan, E. H. Baxter and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Lewis, all of New York and Brooklyn.
